ABOUT

I am a programmer with over 3 years of experience. I am proficient in communicating with foreign customers to meet their requirements in the product development process. I am also passionate about developing clean products to enhance my skills and provide the best customer experience. My strength is front-end development using frameworks like ReactJS and NextJS. Besides that, I have knowledge about fundamental concepts of backend and can work with technologies like Spring Boot and Go. I approach technology with an open mind, valuing diverse ideas and seeking common ground to solve challenges collaboratively.
